Special Note

At the meeting of the Trustees, March 21-22, 1976 a further modification in record keeping was accomplished. No longer will it be necessary for the sponsor to forward the trainee's quarterly statistical report and the quarterly sponsor's evaluation to ITAA. The requirement for quarterly reporting of trainees to their sponsors remains. It is required that the present reporting forms and evaluation report be continued in use by the sponsor. Annually, at the time of dues payment, trainees will submit a statement which indicates that they remain in training and the estimated date they intend to take the certifying examination. At this time their sponsor should also submit his annual summary report of the TM trainee's activities. These report forms are available through the ITAA office.

PTM records, which are on file at the ITAA office, will only consist of the following material:

1. TM training contract;
2. annual summary reports (forms can be obtained from the ITAA office);
3. letters of endorsement to examination by TM's;
4. summary of responses from TM's at examination time;
5. letter of endorsement of sponsors;
6. any notification of grievance or ethics issues.

All other information will be kept by sponsors and trainees. It is urged that records be kept and brought to examination by candidate.

With the increasing number of members outside of the United States (including Canada), it is becoming more difficult and expensive to process international checks and money orders. Whenever you send a check/money order to ITAA or Transactional Publications, please make sure that these two steps are followed:

1. The check must be payable in U.S. currency.
2. It must be payable through a bank in the United States. In other words, the bank where you bought the check must have either an affiliate bank in the U.S. (where they have an account) or a branch in the U.S.

If you have any questions, please ask your bank for the correct procedures to follow. We would really appreciate your taking the extra time and effort to do this!

International Secretary

Howard Bridgman, RM, of Wiesbaden, Germany is interested in finding someone from the Bay Area who would like to trade apartments with him for the summer. He hopes to come here for June, July and August to study TA. If you are interested, please contact him at CMR Box 4143, APO NY 09633.

Supervisor wanted by RM who wishes to train for advanced membership in ITAA. Have high level awareness and motivation, willing to travel if necessary. Anyone interested (and qualified) for arrangement by correspondence, or otherwise, please contact Tony Bannister at 15a, Chivers Rd., Chingford, London, E4, England.

Growth of TA in New Zealand—A study group began in Wellington (New Zealand's capital city) two years ago and now there is a very active 202 Seminar with 20 to 30 people attending regularly. Six members have recently filed Clinical Membership contracts and requests for 101s are coming in from all over the country. Evan Sherrad, CPTM, has recently returned to Auckland from a five year stay in the States and will undoubtedly get something going soon. In 1975 Bob and Mary Goulding visited and later John McNeel also came that way. They did some fantastic work and hopes are that they will return again. Many thanks to Ian McDougall, CPTM for all this good news!

Another New Zealander, Dr. Ian Campbell, RM, will be in San Francisco in August for the ITAA Summer Conference and is interested in the possibility of arranging accomodations with someone interested in TA who lives in the Bay Area. Additionally, he would like to travel around the States to visit other TA centers. Ian is very interested in rock collecting and would like to contact other ITAA members who have a similar interest in order to find out more about the geology of this country. If you have an interest in contacting Ian he can be reached at 27 Riddiford St., Wellington S.I., New Zealand. TEle: 899-039.

SCRIPT ANNOUNCEMENTS

The deadlines for the upcoming issues of the SCRIPT are as follows:

August 1, 1976 SCRIPT—deadline June 25, 1976
October 1, 1976 SCRIPT—deadline August 27, 1976

Send all material to Robin Fryer, Managing Editor, c/o the ITAA Office, to be received there no later than the above deadline dates. All material should be double-spaced.

Beginning in this issue of the SCRIPT there will be several new services which will hopefully benefit our membership. There will be both a "situations available" section where clinics, institutes, etc. can list employment opportunities and a "situations wanted" section for members seeking new positions or locations. Additionally, there will be a section where seminars, study groups and institutes can request teaching services and can indicate what they can afford to pay.

We are very pleased to announce that Muriel James, Ed. D., TM has agreed to serve as consultant for the ITAA SCRIPT. Her background and expertise both in the theory and applications of transactional analysis and her excellent appreciation for the ITAA and its working makes her a valuable resource for this position. We welcome her and look forward to a close and rewarding relationship.

Members Forum

Dear Readers:

The Members Forum is for you—your letters of inquiry and response. It is a place where varying concerns and points of view can be shared openly. We want your letters —from around the country and especially around the world.

The Script Members Forum, as well as the rest of the Script, can also be used for homework. If you enjoy doing exercises, an interesting exercise is the diagnosis of ego states and transactions. For example, from what ego state does the letter seem to be written? To what ego state in the reader does it seem to be addressed? And how about the responses? From what ego state to what ego state do they seem to be directed? How effective are the transactions? Are they complimentary, crossed, ulterior, or what?

This kind of analysis can be informative and fun—like doing a crossword or jigsaw puzzle. Filling in the blanks is often a challenge.

Send in your letters to the Members Forum. All ego states have value. You can write to the Script from any of yours. If need be, we'll ask you for more data.

Recognizing that readers may sometimes express views based on inaccurate or incomplete data, we will supply the appropriate information at the time the letter is published. If a letter seems to be the responsibility of an ITAA committee, we will forward it to the chairperson of that committee instead of publishing it in the Members Forum.

We want to hear from you—feel free to write directly to the Members Forum. Each letter will be read thoughtfully with care and concern.

Robin Fryer, Managing Editor

At the Winter Congress in Atlanta I noticed that there wasn't a single old timer (except myself) present from Eric's original group which met in his Washington Street apartment. Was this a fortuitous accident or does it mean something? The new Board of trustees was installed by the new president, the first president to live thousands of miles from San Francisco. I enjoyed seeing the Board work under the fishbowl scrutiny of their peers. After an absence of four years I observed dramatic changes for the better. I left a male, over forty, California dominated Board in which a major activity seemed to be the promotion and protection of venal, financial interests. I returned to a heterogeneous group of people from all over the country who seem to have their eye on the fair treatment of the membership.

The profit motive is not dead in TA yet but it is definitely on the retreat. There are still some that act as if it is admissible to line one's pocket selling TA, but most of the Board members are taking a second look. My own opinion is that the ethical financial approach is one of fee-for-service and I think that the ITAA should set guidelines for maximum fees ethically admissible for the several services rendered by advanced members, as they represent the organization as teachers, trainers, therapists, or impresarios. One fee in particular needs to be considered and that is the fee charged to supervise the 101 course (two of these are needed for Teaching membership) which can range all the way up to $1500 for the supervision of a single course.

Also of interest are the profits of conferences. The Midwestern Conference assigned its profits ($5,000) to the scholarship and building funds of the ITAA. In that particular instance the non-profit motive went a little too far in that the organizers of the conference did a great deal of work which profited all of us for no fee at all. I believe that fees should be set and paid retroactively to conference organizers.

I get a great deal of mail which helps me in various ways. Most of the mail is strokes for what I am doing. These letters give me heart. A few letters are critical of ITAA and most of these relate to financial matters and how much it costs to be in TA. This month's example: "I attended an expensive three week workshop last summer run by two well-known TA people. The majority of the workshop was given over to the trainees; approximately ⅛ of the workshop was taken over by the leaders."

This sounds like a super rip-off since in all likelihood the trainees were being charged for the privilege of teaching the workshop. In this regard I encourage participants to ask questions and investigate the financial arrangements involved in workshops they attend. Sometimes a little arithmetic will blow your mind.

Another writer comments: "I have sat on boards and heard the tape recordings of examinations where personal biases (of the examiners) have had more to do with the decision than did the candidate's competence . . . candidates were deferred because the examiners lacked the experience and depth to recognize competence in people whose therapeutic stance was different from their own."

I have heard of candidates who felt that their examination was over as soon as they mentioned allegiance to a point of view different from their examiners.

I need more of your letters. Occasionally I get a letter criticizing what I am doing. I take those letters very seriously and I actively solicit your criticism (especially if it comes with some strokes thrown in) because I believe that the acceptance of criticism is not a forte of many in TA and I must admit I have some trouble being open to it myself. But I feel that accepting criticism is a skill that I want to perfect and I need your critical comments to do it. One letter commented that I use the language of piety, another objected to some of my own financial practices. I thank both of their authors. Write on!

Claude Steiner

Dear ITAA,

I took the written exam for Special Fields on Jan. 23 in New York City. Before hearing the results lest I be suspect of sour grapes, here are some thoughts. First of all, I resented the fact that Special Fields didn't have its own exam, rather than being lumped in with CTM's who had had 200 hours more training than I. A cinderella situation. I feel that the TA contribution to the Human Potential Movement took a giant step backwards. I presume the atmosphere was supposed to be ADULT. Instead, it was very Critical Parent to Adapted Child. Going to the bathroom one by one and prowling in the aisles overlooking shoulders is not conducive to clarity, trust, dignity. No other TA experience has been like this, so why this?

You have my exam score, but you do not have the least idea whether I can teach TA.

No Warm Fuzzies,
Florrie Mills, Kingston, N.H.

Dear Ms. Mill;

ITAA regrets the circumstances under which you took the written exam in New York last January. In answer to your concerns, first of all, while the Special Fields candidates were at that time required to answer the same questions as the clinical candidates, they are not and never have been graded on those questions which pertain solely to clinical material. Beginning next year, such questions will be marked with asterisks and Special Fields candidates will not be required to answer them at all. Secondly, E.T.S. is responsible for arranging exam sites and proctors. As a result of your letter, E.T.S. has been informed that a proctor such as the one who ran the exam you attended is unacceptable to ITAA. We have indicated that we would prefer to use alternate sites even if it means fewer participants rather than utilize such proctors.

Sincerely,

Jerome White, Ph.D.
Co-chairman, ETS Written Exam Committee

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

An issue which no president can ignore is the one of abusive practices of an organization or its members. Many members have expressed concern. Notably among those has been Claude Steiner. I recently had a rather lengthy and productive talk with Claude covering a number of issues regarding internal operation of ITAA, the offerings of advanced members and institutes and the means by which members may make their views known and acted upon. We found areas of some agreement and disagreement regarding methods for attaining what I believe to be rather similar goals. Of particular concern were the reported incidents of alleged abuse in training. I believe that most of our members are honorable and ethical. There may be some who are careless and a few who are unscrupulous. Because all members are in ways besmirched when there is criticism, I will address myself to alleged "rip-offs."

There has been some adverse comment about the amount of money charged by some for training, supervision or workshops. I believe it is a mistake to assume that a "rip-off" can be equated with the total fees collected. A rip-off can occur whether the total money paid is $10, $100 or $1000. The concept of "rip-off" is further complicated by uniqueness of our individual desires and biased values and judgments. When this is accompanied by a lack of adequate factual information, we end up condemning or praising others from an uninformed and prejudicial position. While I support a principle of accountability of providers, that principle of accountability must appropriately apply to the commentator as equally as it does to the subject of the comments. Failure to so do results only in other forms of abuse.

There seems to me to be two ideals which, in their implementation, produce conflict. One of the implicit values of ITAA is that those who are served by TA practitioners, shall be served responsibly and without exploitation. This is derived historically from the learned professions and the general admonition to practitioners to "first do no harm." This gives rise to a system of quality assurance so that practitioners operate with knowledge of their own limitations and that they do not offer to perform a service for which they are insufficiently prepared. In an attempt to assure this kind of quality, standards of education and the testing of knowledge and competence are established and these are combined with the teaching of moral principles and an ethical stance. All of this constitutes a system intended to protect the recipient. At the same time it establishes an "in" structure with some prestige and therefore desirability.

From the latter come new problems. These are the needs to protect the novice in training from the potentially exploitative structures within the system of training and examination.

Within ITAA we have placed a major value in the preceptor (sponsorship) system for learning. We have also placed high value on attending learning opportunities provided by other skilled teachers. Unfortunately, we have supported the idea that if one is to "make it," i.e., to become an advanced member, then one should become widely known. Furthermore, popularity has, at times, been confused with expertise. The net result is a system which contains the potential for abuse and exploitation of those who elect to attain advanced certification. This is further complicated by trainees who believe that certification automatically follows pro forma completion of ITAA specified requirements.

These two ideals, the protection of the client and protection of the trainee, complicated by cultural mores and competition are productive of organizational conflict. There are those who believe we can protect by rules while others believe that we will always have some of each, but that neither will suffice without us also assuming an educational responsibility. If we are willing to effectively inform both clients and trainees, then we will minimize the likelihood of abuse because people will ask questions before they "buy in" on an offering of an individual or organization.

To accomplish this the trustees have approved in principle the collection of information and eventual publication of a guide for trainees. The intent will be to provide trainees with guidelines by which they may question training offerings to determine if they will provide what the trainee desires and needs to attain goals. Furthermore, it will assist the trainee in determining whether the offering is comparable in content, cost, etc. with those available from other sources.

We will also be developing an improved, descriptive information leaflet which will be available for presenting to the general public to inform about TA in its rather numerous applications. This can be given to patients, clients, trainees and any interested person. Probably it would be given to every 101 participant plus being mailed to institutions, agencies, and organizations where TA is likely to be used. We will then have a means to minimize the likelihood of alleged or actual abusive practices by informing. We will, of course, continue to have the services of the Grievance Committee and Ethics Committee in instances where there is clear evidence of abuse. It is the responsibility of members to inform these committees when abuses are apparent.

And now something further about member responsibility. In March, 1975 this organization took a leap forward. The trustees no longer held the legislative power and the privilege of electing the officers. Since then there have been other major changes which recognize the voting members as the ones to properly determine the course of organizational activities. The next meeting of the membership will be in conjunction with the summer conference. For the members to express their opinions requires the presence of a quorum either in person or in proxy. I urge everyone to attend the meeting personally. If however, that is not possible then certainly submit a proxy so that a quorum is present. If no quorum is present no binding action can be taken. Read your proxy information very carefully before sending the proxy to the ITAA secretary.

I'm receiving much mail which is interesting, raises my consciousness and stimulates me to the initiation of new action. I especially appreciate those of you who identify problem areas and also propose solutions.

William Holloway, M.D.

PSYCHOLOGY AND COUNSELING TRAINING

A TRANSACTIONAL ANALYSIS TRAINING INSTITUTE AFFILIATED WITH INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE

DEANS
Solon D. Samuels, M.D.
Hedges Capers, L.H.D., Ph.D.
Donald E. Leon, J.D., Ph.D.

. . . a new training Institute that meets the needs of anyone who has a sincere interest in Transactional Analysis, counseling, and other psychotherapeutic modalities and who wishes to earn a BA, MA or Ph.D. degree. It is an opportunity for people who are working on their Clinical Membership or Special Fields Membership to obtain an academic degree simultaneously.

Psychology and Counseling Training is a new teaching institute created from the merger of the Transactional Analysis Training Institute of Beverly Hills under the direction of Drs. Samuels and Leon and the San Diego Institute for Transactional Analysis, under the direction of Dr. Capers. Originally, our Institutes were created to provide advanced training in TA only. We have seen a need to broaden our outlook. Most of our students need additional advanced college degrees. We therefore made a decision to expand our training to include a broad historical basis for understanding the person with the purpose to bring the student up to date in the current behavioral sciences field.

Although our program is extensive and well-rounded, it is designed to accommodate the working professional or person seeking change of career. Classes are held locally and it is possible to complete a full program for any and all degrees in the evenings and on weekends. Additionally, we have designed programs for out of town students. It is possible to complete our program and earn a BA, MA* and/or Ph.D. degree by attending a residential program which consists of a series of four-week intensive live-in sessions and enroll in our ''traveling professor'' program in which students in the same geographical area are combined in study groups and members of our faculty make periodic one week visits for intensive training. The first residency training session for out-of-town people begins August 8 - September 4 in La Jolla.

For more information, write PACT c/o Los Angeles Campus, 8907 Wilshire Blvd., Beverly Hills, CA 90211 or San Diego Campus, 7636 La Jolla Blvd., La Jolla, CA 92037.

*Accredited through Goddard College.

The candidate can then initiate a new contract at a later date. PTM's are required to have quarterly contact with their sponsor. They are also required to submit an annual summary report to their sponsor. This report, along with the sponsor's annual summary report, should be submitted to the ITAA office, within a 90 day period of their PTM dues billing date. Summary of the Minutes

Board of Trustees Quarterly Meeting
March 21-22, 1976
Raleigh, North Carolina

President's Report: President Holloway identified items of continuing concern: quality and progression of by-laws as a means for handling long-range future plans; an ITAA organizational chart outlining authority held by officers, trustees and chairpersons and their relationship to ITAA staff; use of roll call votes in Board meetings to identify how trustees vote on issues; and an expense reimbursement policy for trustees. Motion passed: with prior approval, trustees may be partially reimbursed for travel, meals and lodging, but trustees are encouraged not to submit requests for reimbursement unless necessary.

Executive Director's Report: A motion was passed to hire a regional conference coordinator (see page 11 of this Script for more information). The Trustees approved a benefit package for the ITAA staff including accidental death/disfigurement protection to supplement the health insurance already offered, and dental and life insurance plans.

Muriel James, Ed.D., TM, has agreed to serve as consultant for the Script. She will be named "Editor" and Robin Fryer will be "Managing Editor."

The trustees agreed to make the ITAA mailing list available to ITAA members and to voluntary professional associations upon request. The Executive Director will approve or disapprove such requests upon examination of the item to be mailed.

Arrangements Committee: The Summer Conference sites: 1978—Montreal, Canada at the Sheraton, Mt. Royal Hotel; 1979—Colorado, no site chosen; 1980—San Francisco at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel; 1981—Minneapolis, no site chosen.

Publication Committee Report: The following persons were approved as additions to this committee: Joen Fagan, Bill Collins, Mary Boulton, Mel Boyce, Ken Windes, Pat Crossman, Lois Johnson and Sol Samuels. The Publication Committee will be responsible for selection of articles, abstracts, etc. for translation into other languages. In the future, the Journal will not accept advertisements for books and materials not passed by the Screening Committee. Materials appropriate for the Journal are to be submitted to TAJ first rather than to TA Press; the latter is an outlet for monographs that are too long for the TAJ. Reprints of Journal articles will be available from Trans Pubs at cost.

Special Note: Authors are now required to furnish an abstract for each Journal article upon submission for publication.

Scholarship Loan Fund: January 1977 was set as the goal for issuance of the first scholarship loans with no retroactive loans available. The trustees supported the Committee in procuring whatever consultant help they need. Application forms are now being prepared.

Ethics Committee: In the future, complaints having to do with membership or mixed membership and staff issues will be handled by Martin Groder, MD, TM; staff complaints will be handled by the Executive Director, Robert Andersen. Policy was established stating that all changes in advanced membership status, for whatever reasons, is to be published in the Script.

Training Standards Committee: The trustees agreed that final certification of TA 101 instructors, after no less than two years of supervision, be reached through endorsement by the sponsor and a second supervised and endorsed 101 by a different TM. If there is a disagreement, the three principles shall meet and arrive at a solution. In the future, it will be part of each contract to follow all training standards and trustees procedural and policy changes. Motion passed: PTM's have the option to apply to write items for the written exam instead of serving on oral boards. PTM's who have been under TM contract since prior to March, 1975 and who have not met this requirement will be asked to submit ten questions. Those who do not comply within ninety days will have their TM contract revoked. ITAA will begin seeking American Medical Association approval for ITAA conference attendance. Motion passed: there will be no refunding of fees for exams but with thirty days notice, the entire fee is transferable or with 24 hours notice and only in case of emergency, half the fee is transferable.

Grievance Committee: Motion passed: the Board directs all TM's and PTM's to approve, in advance, all advertising circulated by people in training programs. This is to include all course descriptions other than university approved credit courses and all biographies. It is the responsibility of trainees to submit material to the TM or PTM. The Committee was charged with developing some guidelines regarding advertising to present at the next meeting of the trustees.

Membership Directory: Preparation of a directory with geographical and alphabetical listings will begin immediately. The trustees also authorized preparation of a photo directory with geographical and alphabetical listings to be available no later than summer conference, 1977. At the summer conference 1976 and the winter conference 1977 a photographer will be present to take photos of advanced members who so choose, with these photos to be purchased by the members with a copy going to the ITAA office.

The 101 Outline: The Board approved a 101 outline including items which are considered essential to the course. Other items may be added at the discretion of the instructor.

Articles of Incorporation: The Articles of Incorporation were amended to include a broader scope of operations for Trans Pubs which will involve non-TA materials. The new section (Article Two, sub-part b) reads as follows:

> "To publish written material and produce audiovisual material relating to Social Psychiatry, Transactional Analysis, and allied subjects, and operate wholesale and retail distribution outlets for the sale of such educational material to qualified personnel and the public, together with all activities and functions reasonably related thereto."

Trans Pubs: The trustees accepted the recommendation that the Trans Pubs operation be established clearly as a member service with discount sales as an objective. As soon as practical, Trans Pubs will move to quarters adequate for warehousing and shipping, possibly in a commercial area so that walk-in business can be encouraged.

Future Board Meetings: August 14-15, 1976 in San Francisco; October 23 (and 24 if necessary), 1976 in Minneapolis; January 1977 at the Winter Congress.

Long Range Policy and Planning Commission: The by-laws were amended to provide for creation of this commission. Its function will be to initiate studies for and provide recommendations to the Board for policies, procedures and actions to enhance organizaitonal structure and function consistent with the purposes of the Association. The following persons were approved to be on the committee: Martin Groder, TM, Chairperson; Kenneth Walgren, SFPTM; Francis Ulshack, CPTM, and Dru Scott, SFPTM. The committee has been charged with the task of recommending other persons for the committee.

Consumer Information: A check list of "Things to Ask a Sponsor Before Signing a Contract" be compiled. When this is available it will be published in the Script.

Executive Committee: The by-laws were amended to provide for the establishment of an Executive Committee. This will include the officers, past president and two trustees elected by the Board. Emily Ruppert and Norman James were elected from the Board. The duties of this committee will be to manage the affairs of the association during the intervals between meetings of the trustees and any action taken is subject to review and/or ratification by the trustees. The committee shall evaluate all committee reports submitted for action by the trustees and to make appropriate recommendations. The committee may initiate recommended actions to the trustees.

Copyright Policy: The Board approved a recommendation that reads in part:

> The copyright of the Association may not be assigned to any publisher except on proper written application, which shall in detail describe the use intended and the extent of distribution. When deemed appropriate, a fee may be charged. The only persons who may authorize reproduction shall be the elected secretary and the president.

Unless previously published and copyrighted by the author, the Journal holds the copyright to all articles it publishes. The above recommendation is designed to help protect the rights of the author in cases where the Journal holds the copyright.

Post Script: The Trustees approved the initiation of the Post Script as a vehicle for ITAA members to announce training offerings. Conferences sponsored by ITAA, study groups and seminars will be allowed space in the Script; privately sponsored conferences and institutes will be encouraged to buy space in the Post Script.

Amendments to the By-laws: The by-laws were amended in several instances. Sec. 2.03 Election and Tenure of Office: the eligibility of voting members for nomination to the Board was clarified to read, "Any voting member of the corporation shall be eligible for nomination to the Board of Trustees, providing that no trustee shall be eligible to succeed himself after completing a full 3-year term of office, or if elected to fulfill an unexpired term of more than one year. Additionally, the by-laws were changed to indicate ballots in Board and officer elections shall be returned to the ITAA office thirty rather than forty-five days following the date mailed. After the last sentence in this section the following was added: "The election of the President shall be by a majority. Should the initial ballot not produce such a majority, the two candidates polling the higher number of votes shall then be submitted by repeat mail ballot with all votes to be returned thirty days after the ballot is mailed."

Section 6.02 Dues: The following was added: "At the discretion and in accordance with the policies and procedures determined by the trustees, the payment of dues for any class of membership may be waived. Such waiver shall, unless otherwise specified, be limited to one year.

By-laws Committee: the Board approved establishment of such a committee consisting of three members who will review proposed amendments and advise the trustees. Virginia Malone was appointed chairperson of the by-law committee.

Article of Amendments: This refers to procedure for changing the by-laws and states the proposed amendments must be submitted to the chairperson of the by-laws committee not less than 60 days prior to the meeting at which the change is to be considered unless an emergency exists. Emergency consideration shall require endorsement of the Executive Committee.

Problems Outside the U.S.: The Board supported the principle of operating a satellite ITAA Office in Mexico and authorized the International Relations Committee to explore data, the cost estimate, and all information necessary.

International Relations Committee: An ad-hoc committee of this name was established until such time as the Trustees feel it necessary to amend the by-laws. Richard Erskine was designated chairperson and asked to select committee members for approval by the Board. The proposed charge to the committee included: to encourage international growth; to circulate information; to serve as a liaison between various countries and the ITAA Board of Trustees; and to develop regional interest groups.

We regret to announce that Arnold van Westering has resigned from the ITAA Board of Trustees and the Training Standards Committee. However, we are pleased that he will be continuing to serve on the European Steering Committee and as the coordinator of the Second Annual European Conference to be held in the Netherlands this July.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT NEWS

Course Credit

Graduate credit for two TA courses can now be offered and earned through United States International University. Each five quarter unit course must be taught by qualified U.S.I.U. special instructors (advanced members of I.T.A.A.).

The two courses cover basic areas of instruction that would fall into training. This training may be toward I.T.A.A. advanced membership or it may be in the special purview of the advanced member. Examples: HB 603 may very well be an official I.T.A.A. 101 or it may be a TA program taught by a special field member in an industrial setting.

HB 603 Group Dynamics (Introduction to Transactional Analysis)—The social and psychological implications of processes, group participation and organization. Credit: 5 units.

PSY 620 Psychology of Counseling (Introduction to Group Experience)—Theory and procedures in both individual and group counseling. Credit: 5 units.

A non fee Application for Admission as Non-Degree Student is filed by each registrant. This may be the terminal objective for a large group of participants. The fee for a 5 quarter unit course is $75.00. The credit is transferable to special advanced graduate degree programs (M.A. in Psychology and Ph.D. in Psychology) at U.S.I.U., a fully accredited institution.

If you are teaching a course in which you want credit for your participants, you need to contact Werner E. Stickel, and he will send you a kit on procedures. The procedure has been refined and simplified for your convenience. For further information contact: Dr. Werner E. Stickel, 10455 Pomerado Road, San Diego, California, 92131, (Phone (714) 271-5393).

Undergraduate credit is also available from another institution. Write to the School Department directly for that information (in the process of being finalized as to the kinds of offerings, the costs, and instructor procedures).

M.A. News

Our joint program with Lone Mountain College has filled their ranks. They plan to limit their future enrollment to local candidates (with the exception of a few national centers) or those who can readily come to the San Francisco area. A similar M.A. is available through Goddard College (branches in Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, San Francisco, Washington, D.C., Plainfield, Vt.). The Goddard program features an interchange in the disciplines with a regional seminar as an integral part of the process. The fee structure is comparable to Lone Mountain. For those in outlying areas, please contact the School Department for some strategies in external M.A. delivery.

An exciting development from the Department is the arrangement with The U.S. International University for credit to be given for attendance at two up-coming ITAA conferences. U.S.I.U. will offer 5 quarter units of credit at a fee of $75 for attendance at either the ITAA Summer Conference in San Francisco or the SFM Conference to be held Oct. 13-16 in Burlingame, Ca. Each conference will be listed as Course No. HB 603, entitled "Group Dynamics (The Introduction to Transactional Anlysis)." U.S.I.U. is accredited and the units will be transferable. Both courses will be delivered under the supervision of Jerome White, Ph.D., School Department Chairperson. Please contact Dr. White for the work assignments and course requirements.

Training Standards Committee Report

Chairperson: Ruth McClendon

Note for the Trainees and Sponsors regarding the Call for Examiners at the Summer Conference:

As of this writing, a very large number of CM, SFM and TM candidates are wanting to be examined in August. If all the people wanting examinations are to be examined, we will need many, many examiners. Advanced members are asked to mail in their intent to serve on boards soon. If enough examiners are not available, it may be necessary to limit the number of examinees. In that case, there will be a lottery by random selection to determine the candidates who will be examined. Only those whose files are complete by the 45-day deadline will be eligible for the lottery.

A manual containing current information and procedures and changes that were made in all advanced member training contract since 1972 will be available at the Summer Conference to all trainers and trainees at a nominal cost.

Recently a new membership service has been initiated through the ITAA Office. We have installed a W.A.T.S. (Wide Area Telecommunications System) line which will enable members to call the office toll-free from outside the state of California. The new numbers are (800) 227-4242 and (800) 227-4234. The service became effective as of April 26, 1976. We hope this will facilitate better communications with our membership and also cut down on your phone bills!

ITAA REGIONAL CONFERENCES

As ITAA moves toward sponsoring and/or assisting in regional conferences, we will need to add another person to the staff who is skilled in conference coordinating and program development.

If your region (local, several state or international area) is interested in putting on such a conference and/or assistance with the establishment of a regional conference, please contact the Executive Director, Robert Andersen, at the ITAA office. If you are aware of someone who might possess the necessary skills to fulfill the position of regional conference coordinator, please have them submit a letter of application and a resume of educational and employment background to Mr. Andersen. Such a person should have experience in coordinating conferences, including the programming, volunteer recruitment and coordination, program lay-out, program format, printing, publicity and promotion, exhibition lay-out, marketing and mailing list coordination, and general knowledge of ITAA programming. This person should be able to arrange the planning and conduct of a regional conference from initial recruiting of the volunteer staff through the supervision of the on-site conference program. Willingness to travel for the purpose of preliminary arrangements and the conducting of such conferences is important. Finally, the regional conference coordinator must be able to serve as an organization and program resource for local volunteers and to be able to work as a member of the ITAA staff team.

Special Announcements

ATTENTION WOMEN

The January 1977 issue of the Transactional Analysis Journal will feature articles written by women, for women, about women. Articles on the theme of TA and women's issues are wanted. Please send articles to the Publications Committee, c/o the ITAA office manual.

A Suggestion: We would appreciate it if TM's and PTM's would include information about ITAA and the advantages of Regular Membership as a consistent part of their 101 course presentations, and would encourage their 101 participants to become members of the Association.

ALL ABOUT PEOPLE IN THE ITAA

We'd like to know what ITAA members do when they aren't working . . . this column is a place for interesting notes about your non-work related activities, thoughts, feelings and plans. Send one-liners that let us know about the "other side of your life!"

Situations Wanted

Sharon Burgan has just completed her M.S.S.W. from Kent School of Social Work in Kentucky and is interested in finding a job in the mental health field working with Spanish speaking or bilingual persons, preferably in the Southwest. She is bilingual herself. She can be reached at 185 Vernon Ave., Louisville, Kentucky, 40206.

KEEPING FIT WITH JACK DUSAY

Don't forget to bring your jogging gear to the ITAA Summer Conference so you can do your morning exercise with Jack Dusay, our peerless leader of TA treks. He promises an exciting and scenic challenge so be prepared!

ATTENTION REGULAR MEMBERS

In an attempt to reach our Regular Members and serve them as fully as possible, we would like to institute a new column in the SCRIPT which is focused on the needs and issues most vital to RM's. We would like to know what kinds of things might be beneficial and interesting to Regular Members and would appreciate it if you would let us know. It can be both information or material you would like us to provide for you, or ideas about how you might use the space for communications, etc., among yourselves and the ITAA at large.

Editorial Policy

The Editors of the ITAA Script reserve the right to edit material submitted for publication for purposes of clarity and space. Editing which affects meaning will be done responsibly and in such a way as to preserve the intent of the original material. In instances where questions exist about such material, the author will be consulted prior to publication of edited copy.

MAILING TIME—WHO KNOWS?

Beginning with this June issue, the Script and the Post Script will be mailed to the membership first class. We would like to know how long it takes to get to different parts of the country this way. So, please drop us a note, or if you contact the ITAA office by letter or phone just tell someone to pass the information along to Robin Fryer, Script editor. This will help us evaluate the best way to get this material to you on time—wherever you live! Thanks!
